

Global Travel Restrictions Imposed amid COVID-19 Outbreak

I. Restrictions on Entering Hong Kong

- The Hong Kong SAR Government restricts any Hubei residents and non-Hong Kong residents who have visited the Hubei Province in the past 14 days upon arrival from entering Hong Kong since January 27, 2020.
- With effect from 0.00am on March 25, 2020 until further notice, all non-Hong Kong residents coming from overseas countries and regions by plane are denied entry to Hong Kong; and non-Hong Kong residents coming from the Mainland, Macao and Taiwan will be denied entry to Hong Kong if they have been to any overseas countries and regions in the past 14 days.
- Air transit/transfer services at Hong Kong International Airport (HKIA) will be resumed gradually. From June 1, 2020 until further notice, transit/transfer passengers who have been checked through at the origin port and take transit/transfer flights operated by the same airline group are accepted at HKIA. The no-entry restriction for non-Hong Kong residents from overseas remains unchanged. Passengers should confirm in advance that they are able to enter the final destination. Please check with airlines for details.

II. Compulsory Quarantine of Certain Persons Arriving at Hong Kong

- Inbound travellers from the Mainland, Macao or Taiwan, including Hong Kong and non-Hong Kong residents, are subject to compulsory quarantine at designated places (home or other accommodation) apart from the exempted persons under the "Compulsory Quarantine of Certain Persons Arriving at Hong Kong Regulation".
- Hong Kong residents arriving in Hong Kong who have been to any overseas countries or areas in the past 14 days are subject to compulsory quarantine at designated places (home or other accommodation) apart from the exempted persons under the "Compulsory Quarantine of Certain Persons Arriving at Hong Kong from Foreign Places Regulation".
- All inbound travellers who are subject to the compulsory quarantine specified above should not have any symptoms and should have passed temperature checks upon entry. Those with symptoms will be referred to the Department of Health (DH) for further handling. Arrivals holding a visa with validity of less than 14 days will be denied entry.
- With effect from May 4, 2020, the exemption of person or category of persons from compulsory quarantine arrangement under the "Compulsory Quarantine of Certain Persons Arriving at Hong Kong from Foreign Places Regulation" is broadened to include: (a) either the owner of a Hong Kong enterprise with a valid business registration certificate issued under the Business Registration Ordinance and with manufacturing operations in the Mainland, and up to one person employed and so authorised by the enterprise; or (b) up to two persons employed and so authorised by such an enterprise as described in (a). Starting from May 18, 2020, the exemption is broadened to include registered practice units of the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants, enterprises with provision of construction-related professional services in the Mainland, persons engaged in technological R&D co-operation-related activities in the Mainland, Macao or Taiwan, The University of Hong Kong - Shenzhen Hospital and Hong Kong enterprises providing medical or dental services in the Mainland. Starting from May 19, 2020, the exemption is broadened to include legal and dispute resolution services providers and enterprises with operating base relating to logistics, port and/or shipping business in Mainland. Starting from May 22, 2020, the exemption is broadened to include directors of listed companies or listing applicants. Starting from June 15, 2020, the exemption is broadened to include legal practitioners providing services for important and large-scale commercial transactions. An exempted person must undertake to fulfill certain requirements.

- Secondary Three to Secondary Five cross-boundary students will resume classes from June 15, 2020. Subject to meeting the relevant conditions, cross-boundary students can in principle be exempted from compulsory quarantine in Hong Kong and medical surveillance by means of centralised quarantine in Shenzhen.
- Starting from April 22, 2020, all asymptomatic inbound travellers arriving at the Hong Kong International Airport are mandated to wait for test results at a designated location after collecting their deep throat saliva samples for conducting testing for COVID-19 at DH's Temporary Specimen Collection Centre (TSCC) at AsiaWorld-Expo. Passengers arriving by flights in early mornings and later mornings will stay at the TSCC to wait for test results after collecting their deep throat saliva samples there. They will receive the test results on the same day. As the test results for passengers arriving in afternoons or at nights will not be available on the same day, they will be taken to the DH Holding Centre for Test Result in the Regal Oriental Hotel by coaches arranged by the DH to wait for their test results.

More information and updates on latest developments about COVID-19 in Hong Kong can be found on www.coronavirus.gov.hk

III. Restrictions on Entering Mainland China

- The CPG temporarily suspends the entry into Mainland China by foreign nationals holding visas or residence permits still valid to the time of the announcement on March 26, 2020. Entry by foreign nationals with APEC Business Travel Cards are suspended as well. Foreign nationals for necessary economic, trade, scientific or technological activities or out of emergency humanitarian needs may apply for visas at Chinese embassies or consulates. Entry by foreign nationals with visas issued after March 26 will not be affected.
- On March 26, 2020, the Civil Aviation Administration of China announces that each Chinese airline is only allowed to maintain one route to any specific country with no more than one flight per week; selected foreign airlines are allowed to maintain one route to China with no more than one weekly flight.

- Guangdong and Shenzhen authorities announce that all inbound travellers (including travellers from Hong Kong SAR, Macao SAR, and Taiwan, and transit passengers), regardless of their destinations, are required to take COVID-19 nucleic acid tests and to undergo a 14-day quarantine.
- From April 10 onwards, the Shenzhen Municipal Government will require all cross-boundary goods vehicle drivers who enter Shenzhen via Shenzhen ports to present the "i Shenzhen" health certification code and proof of a negative result of a nucleic acid test conducted within the previous seven days to Shenzhen customs officers for examination before entering Shenzhen. Concurrently, the Zhuhai Municipal Government will require all cross-boundary goods vehicle drivers who enter Zhuhai via Hong Kong-Zhuhai-Macao Bridge to present proof of a negative result of a nucleic acid test conducted within the previous seven days. Drivers must acquire a negative result of a nucleic acid test before entering the Mainland ports. Tests for the Hong Kong cross-boundary goods vehicle drivers will be centralised at the site of ports and the cost will be HK$350. The HKSAR Government will bear the cost involved.
- With effect from 8am on April 28, 2020, travellers entering Shenzhen via Shenzhen ports will be required to stay at a designated quarantine centre for 14 days for medical observation.
- Starting from June 8, 2020, all foreign airlines are allowed to choose from a list of approved cities to operate one international passenger flight a week.

*Updated WHO recommendations for international traffic in relation to COVID-19 outbreak (Feb 29)

https://www.who.int/ith/2019-nCoV_advice_for_international_traffic-rev/en/

WHO continues to advise against the application of travel or trade restrictions to countries experiencing COVID-19 outbreaks. In general, evidence shows that restricting the movement of people and goods during public health emergencies is ineffective in most situations and may divert resources from other interventions. Furthermore, restrictions may interrupt needed aid and technical support, may disrupt businesses, and may have negative social and economic effects on the affected countries. However, in certain circumstances, measures that restrict the movement of people may prove temporarily useful, such as in settings with few international connections and limited response capacities.

Travel measures that significantly interfere with international traffic may only be justified at the beginning of an outbreak, as they may allow countries to gain time, even if only a few days, to rapidly implement effective preparedness measures. Such restrictions must be based on a careful risk assessment, be proportionate to the public health risk, be short in duration, and be reconsidered regularly as the situation evolves.

Travel bans to affected areas or denial of entry to passengers coming from affected areas are usually not effective in preventing the importation of cases but may have a significant economic and social impact.

Yet, it is prudent for travellers who are sick to delay or avoid travel to affected areas, in particular for elderly travellers and people with chronic diseases or underlying health conditions.
